

METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR IMPLEMENTING A PROJECT IN AN ORGANIZATION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for implementing a project in an organization is disclosed. A contract (44) representing an agreement between an organization (10) and a project owner (114) is received, where the agreement is associated with implementing a project, and is stored in a project file (52) of a database (40). A monitoring report describing execution of the project in accordance with the contract (44) is received and stored in the database (40). A corrective action request generated in response to the monitoring report and including a request to penalize the project owner (114) is received. The project file (52) is modified in response to the corrective action request to indicate that the project is not executing. A corrective action is initiated in accordance with the corrective action request.